Slate platform

Get easier access to scores in Slate by integrating our enhanced TOEFL iBT score automation into your Slate platform. The process is simple, and involves a one-time, server-to-server configuration between the ETS Data Manager and Slate. These setup instructions (PDF) can be implemented via your IT department.

Once this configuration is complete, you can customize and manage your dashboard to display the information that you find relevant, and score releases will automatically be imported into your Slate platform, eliminating the need for regular manual uploads.

You'll need access to the ETS Data Manager automated server-to-server data feeds to receive the automatic score data uploads. If you don't have access, please request access by filling out this form.

Paper score reports

Printed score reports have several security features, including:

- the ETS Security Guard, a special heat-sensitive ink that, when activated, verifies the report's authenticity
- an orange bar with dots that makes it impossible to scan or photocopy the score report
- a Laser Lock on the face of the paper that makes it difficult to remove toner from laser- or ion-printed documents

Paper score reports include MyBest scores and are mailed to TOEFL Designated Institutions (DIs) twice a week within 11–13 business days of the test date.

When to expect student scores

Score delivery time can vary based on how DIs have chosen to receive scores:

- ETS Data Manager: 4–8 business days (11–12 business days for TOEFL iBT Paper Edition)
- Server-to-server feeds: 8–10 business days (11–16 business days for Paper Edition)
- Postal mail: 11–13 business days plus mailing time. Allow an additional 7–10 days for mail delivery in the United States, and 4–6 weeks for mail delivery to other locations.

Will score reports indicate test delivery method?

Score reports for TOEFL iBT Home Edition tests will have a test center code of STNRP, followed by the test taker's 3-digit ISO country code. Score reports for TOEFL iBT Paper Edition will be noted at the top of the report.

As you prepare students for the future, help them realize their full potential with the TOEFL iBT test.

About the TOEFL iBT Test

The TOEFL iBT test is a reliable, fair and accurate measurement of the four language skills — reading, listening, speaking and writing — the way they're used in an academic environment. That's why TOEFL iBT scores are accepted by more than 12,000 universities and institutions in over 160 countries.

The TOEFL iBT test is administered via three testing options. Each option provides the same valid and reliable TOEFL iBT test, identical in content and scoring.

Teacher Development

The TOEFL® GoMentor!™ series of resources offers courses, workshops, webinars and more to support your development as an English-language teacher, and to equip you with the skills to prepare your students for the TOEFL iBT test and the university classroom.

Teaching Academic English with the TOEFL iBT Test

This multi-week online course helps you improve your skills and build curricula for teaching academic English. It gives you high-quality, practical content, emphasizing task-based language teaching (TBLT) and English for academic purposes (EAP).

The course combines the best of both theory and practice, including examples of how these concepts can be applied to designing English-language learning lessons and tasks to support students' development of EAP in relation to the TOEFL iBT test. You'll gain a deeper understanding of how to apply best practices in language teaching and receive materials that you can adapt for your own classroom.

Choose the Independent Study option to learn at your own pace, or Interactive Study for a more structured experience. The next Interactive Study cohort will begin on September 26, 2023, with enrollment open now.

For detailed course information and pricing, and to enroll in Independent Study or an upcoming Interactive Study cohort, email <a href="https://doi.org/10.1001/journal.org/10.1001/journa

Teaching TOEFL iBT Skills workshop

The Teaching TOEFL iBT Skills workshop (formerly the Propell® Workshop for the TOEFL iBT Test) is a professional development program designed to empower English-language teachers with a deeper understanding of the TOEFL iBT test and the academic language skills it assesses. Led by ETS-approved facilitators online or in person, the workshop covers:

- the Reading, Listening, Speaking and Writing sections of the TOEFL iBT test
- how the Speaking and Writing sections are scored
- $\bullet\,$  an introduction to teaching and learning strategies to help promote your students' success
- sample classroom activities to motivate your students

The workshop is also an opportunity to interact with peers and provide feedback to help us improve and develop assessments that meet your needs.

For more information about workshops available in your country or online, or to request one,  $\,\underline{\text{contact us}}\,.$

Teacher webinar series

Join our free interactive webinars to learn more about details of the test, tips and ideas for your classroom, and any recent developments in the TOEFL Program. To see the current schedule, register for a webinar, or to request access to recordings from past events, fill out the Teacher Webinar Series form.

Distance learning lesson plan — writing

This Independent Writing lesson plan recommends activities and virtual platforms to facilitate distance learning. Please fill out the form to download this lesson plan.

Grants and awards

 $\ensuremath{\mathsf{ETS}}$  and the TOEFL Board sponsor several grants and awards each year for work in:

- foreign or second language research, teaching or assessment
- international higher education
